MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION OF DALY CITY OUTLINES PLANS FOR XMAS ACTIVITY DURING HOLIDAY SEASON

Appoint Committee To Work With All City Organizations In Preparation Of Gala Celebration

WANT NEW POST OFFICE

Officers For Ensuing Year Elected And Other Business Transacted For Civic Betterment

Peter Petersen was nominated without opposition and declared elected as president of the Daly City Merchants Association at a regular meeting, Wednesday evening of this week, held in the Daly City Theater Social Hall. Ernest Milo served the association as president for the past year.

Other officers elected at the session were: L. B. Meritt, vice president; Albert H. Boynton, secretary and business manager; Charles Williamson, financial secretary, and Grant Williams, Sergeant at arms.

WANT POST OFFICE

As a special order of business, the matter of establishing an independent post office in Daly City, to replace the now existant San Francisco branch office, was given careful consideration. Several reports were made briefly outlining the advantages of a local office. To start immediate action on the proposition, a committee was apointed to circulate petitions for an independent postal service here. Committeemen are: Peter Pavlos, W. E. Pitschke, L. B. Meritt, Fred Lindser and Al Harrison.

When the petitions are signed they will be forwarded to Congressman J. J. McGrath in Washington, who will deliver them to the national postal officials with a recommendation that immediate action be taken.

CHRISTMAS ACTIVITIES

Members of twelve other local organizations met with the merchants, Wednesday evening, to discuss Christmas activities for Daly City. Every local organization is invited to designate a member, or several members, to work on a general Christmas committee and plan appropriate holiday festivities here. Street decorations and a program for the children will probably be major affairs of the celebration.

W. E. Pitschke was named as general chairman of the Christmas committee.

After the business session of the merchants meeting, Ralph Walthers, representative of the 1939 Golden Gate Exposition, displayed a series of slides on construction work now in progress on Treasure Island, site of the 1939 World Fair. He also described and showed pictures of contemplated exhibits.

Approximately a hundred members and guests were present at the meeting. Refreshments were served after the business session.

OUR POLICY IS RESTATED

Complaints reach the editor from time to time that certain items called "news" have been omitted from these columns.

The policy of The Record will be that no happening that has transpired more than ten days in the past will be printed.

For instance any happening from Wednesday up until Saturday evening of the week before publication on Friday must be in this office not later than Monday afternoon of the week of publication. Those happenings from Saturday until Wednesday noon, must be in by that time—Wednesday noon for publication on Friday.

The dead line is Wednesday afternoon on anything occurring up to Wednesday noon from the Saturday before, unless exception is deemed expedient for some good reason.

For instance, a party held on June 21 is not news if handed in on July 3. Also, if it happened two or three weeks ago, it has no news value.

Subscribers With Certain Telephone Prefixes Save Payments For Connections With Outlying Points

Planned for the practical elimination of boundary difficulties and to recognize the community of interest between adjacent and contiguous territories, a new optional extended scope telephone service for a number of suburban communities within the bay area has been announced by the California Railroad Commission, proposed to be effective January 15.

SOME CURED WHILE THEY WORK

The current sale of Christmas Seals by the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association helps to finance an educational campaign to promote the use of pneumothorax treatment, such as is shown in the accompanying picture. Duplicates of the equipment are to be found in the Community Hospital at San Mateo, the California Sanatorium at Belmont, the Canyon Sanatorium at Redwood City and other institutions for the care of tuberculosis.

The patient in this photograph is receiving pneumothorax treatment for tuberculosis, just as are a number of residents of San Mateo County, some of whom are able to continue with their work while taking the treatments. "Pneumo" means air and "thorax" refers to the chest. By this process the infected lung is put to rest, thereby restricting respiration to the healthy lung. When tuberculosis is discovered early, pneumothorax can save thousands of lives. This educational work for early diagnosis by the tuberculin test and X-ray is made possible through the sale of Chrstmas Seals by the local tuberculosis association.

No War Toys Among First Lady Purchases

Part of the shopping, this week, in New York by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was done in a department store which she selected because "it has banned all toys of militaristic quality."

She would not reveal what toys she selected.

"I purchased a number of things for my seven grandchildren," she said. "I also bought gloves of all kinds for the President and the rest of the family."

Tear Gas Bomb Routs Violinist

Because someone had discharged a tear gas bomb in Hull Auditorium at Ann Arbor, Mich., the other evening, Fritz Kreisler, noted Austrian violinist, had to stop in the middle of his concert, as more than 50 of the audience made for an exit.

"It must have been some little freshman joke," Kreisler remarked.

These books may be reserved by leaving a self-addressed postal card at the loan desk.

NO CHRISTMAS TREES

Steamship agents at Portland, Ore., said this week, that no Christmas trees were loaded here for China, Japan or the Philippine Islands. They blamed the war.

FAMOUS THOROUGHBRED TO BE STATIONED AT HEATHER FARM ON HIS ARRIVAL FROM ENGLAND

Expected To Run In Santa Anita Handicap Before Retirement To Stud

John W. Marchbank, directing owner of Tanforan race course and master of the famed Heather Farm, is bringing to California the most prized blood in racing. His new thoroughbred, Soleil du Midi, is now on the high seas after embarking from Liverpool, and is eventually destined for stud duty at the Walnut Creek farm. He is expected to arrive in San Francisco on December 15.

Soleil du Midi will be taken direct to Tanforan, placed in training for the Santa Anita Handicap and, following that engagement, will be retired to the stud, according to present plans.

Flowing through the veins of this French bred five year old star is the blood of the world's most famous equine champions.

An index of the invader's prowess is attested by the fact that he was given 124 pounds for the Cesarewich Stakes in England, thus outranking virtually all of the topnotchers in the estimation of the handicapper.

In his brief racing career, which included only seven starts, he captured the Welsh St. Ledger at Chepstow and two other important stakes, and finished in the money in his other engagements.

Soleil du Midi unquestionably will be the finest bred horse standing in

GIRL SCOUTS TO SELL APPLES IN AID TO CHILDREN

Are Also Engaged In Making Up Scrapbooks For Child Patients At Community Hospital

It is an old parable that "an apple a day will keep the doctor away." True as that saying may be, it holds no charm for keeping the Girl Scouts away. More probable, if you eat an apple a day, it will bring them to your door, for the Girl Scouts of Troop No. 2 have temporarily entered the fruit vending business and will see to it that anyone desirous of purchasing apples or oranges will be supplied with their needs during this month. Proceeds from this financial project will be used to help make Christmas a little more cheerful for many children.

Last Saturday the girls spent much of their time at their evening meeting making colorful cloth scrapbooks which they intend to present to the children patients in the San Mateo Community Hospital.

After a swimming party at the Y. W. C. A. on Sutter street, supper was enjoyed by a large group of the Girl Scouts at the home of their Scout Captain, Mrs. Aldyth Fox, Thursday of this week. Some of the girls passed their second class cooking test by assisting in preparation of the repast.

HOUSEHOLDER IS BITTEN BY PET

The actions of his pet fox terrier might have caused serious injury to Ray Green of Evergreen avenue and his small child, Sunday of this week, had it not been for "ability to think and act quickly."

Observing that the dog's attitude toward the youngster seemed to be other than mere playfulness, Green hurried to the back yard and seized the vicious canine. As he did so the animal sank his teeth into his master's flesh. Now thoroughly convinced that the creature was in an abnormal condition, the man picked up the nearest weapon at hand, a pair of iron tongs, and quickly killed the enraged beast.

The wound was dressed by Doctor Drees at the Junipero Serra Hospital and the remains of the family pet removed to the University of California Hospital for examination.

The test made there showed that the terrier had been suffering from hydrophobia, or rabies, and for his protection an antitoxin injection was administered to Mr. Green. He is feeling no ill effects from his experience.

Admiral Bloch New U. S. Navy 'Cincus'

Admiral Claude Charles Bloch, 59, who, on February 1, 1938, will succeed Admiral Arthur Japy Hepburn as commander in chief of the United States fleet. Admiral Bloch, at present commander of the battle force, on appointment as "Cincus," will "shift his flag" from the U. S. S. California, battle force flagship, to the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, flagship of the United States fleet.

REMEMBER AND DRIVE SAFELY

The December traffic poster of the National Safety Council shows the hands of a clock labeled, "Better Stop a Minute—Than Forever."

No driver of a motor vehicle would ever honestly say that the minute saved by taking a chance was worth the risk. The important time for you, the motorist, to think "Safety" is when you are behind the wheel of your automobile on the public highways, not when you are comfortably seated in your armchair at home. Do you agree?—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

CHANGE IN OFFICE COUNTY CLERK IN REDWOOD CITY

Vacancy Caused By Death Of E. B. Hinman Filled By Appointment Of Chief Deputy

Elmore Brown Hinman, county clerk and civic leader, lost his gallant fight for life at 12:50 a. m. today, but won surcease from the physical suffering which has incapacitated him for more than a year.

The end came quietly at the little family home on Stambaugh street in Redwood City as members of the family stood grief stricken at the bedside. He was 61 years of age at the time of his death.

Mr. Hinman, who had conducted a grocery business in Redwood City for a number of years, was first elected to the office of county clerk in 1930. He held the office to the time of his demise.

His re-election at the primary in 1934 came as an outspoken public approval of his administration of the affairs of the county.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon of this week at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Hinman is survived by his wife, Cora C. Hinman; his mother, Mrs. Alice Hinman; seven children, Mrs. Elma Small, Mrs. Vera McAuliffe, Mrs. Bertha Coehlo, Loyal Anson, Sydney Prewett, Carol Dewitt, and Franklin Elmore Hinman. He was the brother of Mrs. Mabel Musladin, Mrs. Betsy Howson, Dewitt and Gage J. Hinman.

In recent months the office has been in the charge of William Augustus, chief deputy. Mr. Hinman has been out of his office a great deal of the time since May 9, 1936, when he underwent a major operation. He later appeared to be well on the road to recovery, then became ill again.

Escape Injury In Collision of Cars

Three people miraculously escaped injury when two automobiles collided at the intersection of Mission street and Hillside boulevard, Daly City, Monday evening of this week.

One of the machines was driven by S. Pfeifer of Hillcrest drive and the other by Felice Pedemonte of Colma, who had his small ten year old daughter as a passenger.

As a result of the impact the Pedemonte car turned completely over.

However, no one received any physical injury. They were only a bit nervous and shaky, when they considered "what might have happened."

Asks Postmaster Confirmation Now

Oscar L. Philipps of Santa Claus, Ind., was on the list of postmasters up for confirmation this week.

President Roosevelt has requested the Senate to confirm Santa Claus' postmaster so he can get ready for the Christmas rush, and avoid delay in the handling of the business.

Assault With Club Brings Heavy Fine

Edward Havens, an inspector for the Market Street Railway Company, charged with battery, was found guilty in Judge W. H. Clay's court and on Monday of this week, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100, in default of payment, of which he was to be committed to the custody of the sheriff of the County of San Mateo to serve one day for every $2 of the fine. Havens paid up.

The battery complaint was sworn to by Richard Marks, whom Havens is alleged to have assaulted with a policeman's club, about ten days ago, in a restaurant at the "top of the hill."

Receipts in the City Court for the month of November were $543.50, made up mostly of traffic fines.

Citizenship Puzzle Is Still Unsolved

In Vancouver, British Columbia, Canadian immigration officials are telling of an unusual citizenship problem which came under their observation. An East Indian father, his Mexican wife and their American born son, collectively, have no legal right in any country.

The man, alleged to have entered the United States illegally, married a Mexican girl in Texas, who also had no legal right in the United States. The child was born in this country and then the couple moved to Canada without sanction of authorities.

As a British citizen, the father could be deported to India, but that country will not accept his wife or son.

Our country admits the son may claim citizenship, but will not have the father or mother.

Mexico would accept the mother, but not the father and son.

So what will become of this wandering trio without a country?

ENTERTAINMENT PLANNED FOR HOLIDAY SEASON

Vaudeville And Other Popular Types Of Performances Hold Boards During Holidays

With drama, comedy, big time vaudeville and seasonal marionnette performances the San Francisco Federal Theater Project will usher in the 1937 Christmas holiday season. The program planned is so packed with the type of entertainment so popular during the Christmas-New Year season that it will keep the stage of the Alcazar in constant use afternoon and night from December 15 until January 2, shortly after which the regular dramatic presentations of the Project will start again.

In the mean time the thrilling drama of English criminal law by John Galsworthy, "Justice," continues to draw capacity audiences nightly and will probably end December 12 as one of the most profitable productions as well as the most successful yet done by the government players here.

The Christmas-New Year schedule follows:

December 15-27—"Cricket On The Hearth," by Charles Dickens.

December 18-20—Matinee only. Marionettes. "Alice In Wonderland," by Lewis Carroll.

December 21-24—Matinees only. Marionettes. "Twelfth Night," by William Shakespeare.

December 31-January 2—New Year's Vaudeville Frolic with two shows New Year eve and matinees and evening performances January 1 and 2.

Legion Auxiliary Members Are Active

Daly City Unit No. 410, American Legion Auxiliary, held its regular meeting, Wednesday evening of this week. Plans are under way for the annual Christmas Party for the sons and daughters of members of the Legion. Mrs. Marcia Trier of the Unit and R. L. Crane of the Post, are chairmen. The affair will be held on December 22 in Legion Hall.

A committee from the Unit attended the meeting of the Daly City Merchants Association, where steps were taken to promote a Community Christmas celebration. A member of the Unit will serve on the general committee which will meet in a few days.

District 26 holds second place in the Department Membership Campaign. There are only a few members to go to make our complete quota and we hope to reach that before Christmas in order to receive a National Citation.

The next regular meeting will be held on December 15.

English Solve Traffic Problem

Blackfriars Bridge crossing, one of London's traffic "black spots," was transferred recently to an automatic light control system, which is claimed to be the most complicated in the world.

There are four main roads and five subsidiary ones, carrying 50,000 vehicles daily, included in this transfer. The whole involves the use of 43 separate sets of signals. All are linked with an intricate electrical apparatus which counts the vehicles as they approach from different quarters and regulates the length of the "Go" and "Stop" signs accordingly.

Pedestrians are expected to use subway crossings where possible, but in some places, hand operated signals are provided.

When the change over from "Robert" to Robot was made, the six policemen previously in control of traffic stood aside to watch results. At the first "rush hour" they fancied that the flow of traffic must be exceptionally light, because of the lack of traffic "jams." Actually the traffic was as heavy as usual.

Alabama Set For Rose Bowl Game

James Ryba

James Ryba, 200 pound tackle of Alabama, the team which was chosen by the California Bears for New Year's Day annual grid classic in Pasadena, Cal., Rose Bowl. Ryba was honored by selection on the All-United States football team this year.

Junior College Goes In For Basketball

With the close of the conference football season, San Mateo Junior College athletes will soon turn their attention to basketball.

Coach Murius McFadden, who also coached the grid squad, will find most of his 1936 regulars missing when he issues his call for candidates, as many of them were graduated or have transferred to universities.

Cook Books At Postponed Meeting

The Experienced Housewife Club will meet Wednesday afternoon, December 15, a week later than had been previously announced.

At this gathering the new cook books will be on display, an accomplishment which carries with it happy friendships, appetizing luncheons and afternoons of relaxation for a group of busy home makers.

A Christmas Grab Bag is to be another feature of this affair, each member bringing a hand made gift, not to exceed twenty five cents in value.

Last, but not least, a luncheon will be served. It will be a bountiful if not elaborate repast, with the following five hostesses doing the honors: Mesdames George Augustien, E. R. Bolger, June Fletcher, D. Hunter and Maude Pitschke.

Remember the date, December 15.

LOSS OF POWER

A leaky cylinder head gasket occasionally may cause loss of power. Another effect is that water gets into the crankcase and dilutes the oil.

One test is to examine the water in the radiator with the motor running. If bubbles appear, look for a defective gasket. A scum of oil may also be noted on the surface of the water.

Makes Extended Tour Of The East

Buster Foppiano of Evergreen avenue left, Wednesday evening of this week, by bus for Warwick, Rhode Island, where he contemplates visiting with his aunt, Mrs.Mable Caproni, whom he has not seen in over twenty years.

En route home via the northern route he will visit friends in Seattle, Wash. The traveler expects to arrive home after the first of the year.

CHANGE IN OFFICE COUNTY CLERK IN REDWOOD CITY

At this session, District Attorney Gilbert D. Ferrell informed the board that it was necessary to fill the vacancy promptly in order that the important functions of the county clerk's office might be performed without serious interruption.

He pointed out that the appointments of all of Hinman's deputies ended at his death and that none of the functions of the office could continue until a successor had been named.

Ferrell then presented a resolution naming Augustus county clerk for the balance of Mr. Hinman's unexpired term. The resolution was adopted by unanimous vote.

Augustus spoke briefly of his grief at the passing of his chief.

"He was more than a friend," the new county clerk declared. "We both served in the Spanish-American war. That gave us a bond stronger than mere friendship."

He assured the board that he would cooperate to the fullest extent, and assured the people of the county that he would "continue the policies in effect in the past to carry on for the good of the county."

Augustus, who is 58, became chief deputy when Hinman took office on January 4, 1931, and has served in that capacity ever since. He is a native of Centralia, Ill., and lives at 838 El Camino Real, San Mateo.

He has been prominent in veteran's affairs, having served as commander of Matalan Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, which takes in San Mateo, Burlingame, and Hillsborough.

Augustus' term will expire January 1, 1939. An election for county clerk will be held next year.

ROBBER VICTIM CALLS LOCAL POLICE FOR AID

Union Official Of San Francisco Forced By Bandits To Drive To Remote Section

Monday afternoon of this week, Chief of Police James G. Reardon was called to the rescue of Victor S. Swanson, treasurer of the Hoisting Engineers Local Union of San Francisco, who had been left stranded in his machine on San Pedro road near Junipero Serra boulevard, where he said he had been forced to go, after having been robbed at a street crossing Chenery in San Francisco.

Swanson claimed that as he left the Building Trades Council Temple, Fourteenth and Guerrero streets, at 2:45 that afternoon, to deposit money for the union at the Hibernia Bank, Twenty-second and Valencia streets, three men in an auto accosted him with the horn and forced him to stop at a curb in the vicinity of the bank.

One of the trio taking possession of Swanson's car and, in the face of gun to rib enforcement, the victim continued as directed to Chenery street, where he was robbed of $416 of union money and about eight dollars of his own, while the other two bandits followed in another car. Swanson further stated that he was ordered to drive on, and at San Pedro road the robber despoiled the machine of its ignition wires and left its owner, where he was later rescued by Chief Reardon.

The union official, who resides at 366 Fifteenth street, San Francisco, stopped two motorists and communicated with Daly City police. He was in a highly nervous condition and up to present writing, has been unable to give a description of the three robbers, Chief Reardon stated.

BALANCED WHEELS

Unless all wheels of your car are kept in reasonable balance, steering difficulties may develop.

Heavy boots in tires or crudely vulcanized tubes tend to cause trouble. Even a rear tire out of balance can set up torsional vibration in the front wheels.

LETTERS TO SANTA ARE ANSWERED

There IS a Santa Claus—as most hardshelled skeptics have known all the time!

But it is not to convince the few remaining disbelievers that this is being written. It is just to inform young and dubous parents, wanting to bring up Junior according to the streamlined techniques of modern child training, that they can go ahead and tell the youngster that there really is a Santa Claus, with a home, and address, and everything. It won't make Junior the victim of a cruel and callous lie!

Reports are coming in that the postoffice at Santa Claus, Indiana, is being snowed under with mountainous heaps of mail. Trucks, groaning under the weight of fat mail pouches, speed quickly between America's most famous little village and the nearest train stop twelve miles distant, bringing Christmas tidings to Santa Claus and earnest pleas for that little doll in the window, that gleamng red velocipede at that certain store and numerous other wanted toys.

Strangely enough, it is rumored that most of these letters—scrawled under Mother's or Dad's wise supervision—do get into the hands of Santa Claus!

For doesn't he nearly always hitch up those sturdy reindeers, Donder and Blitzen, and come bounding westward out of the snow country, bringing most everything the letter asked him to?

WONDERLAND THAT IS CALIFORNIA

Judging from the overwhelming evidence, America has begun to ask itself a very wise question.

Why spend a thousand dollars or more—if you have 'em—to stroll through the corridors of the Louvre? Or travel six thousand miles to look at the Swiss Alps or cruise over Scandinavia's steel blue fjords, when right at home we have a stunning wonderland in our national parks?

You have only to observe the recent figures on the number of visitors to California's great parks during the last year, if you want to find out how America and California are answering that question In that period over four millions visited this state's national forests!

That handsome figure does not include those who just trundled through the parks taking in the scenery, or getting snapshots of the famliy standing in front of Yosemite's giant redwoods or Death Valley's weirdly pointed crags. It refers only to those who bided their time, set up camp, got out reel and rod, scrambled over mountain slopes on hiking trips, or skimmed down on skis in winter sports season.

Among those four million were people from every state and from twelve foreign countries. Even these latter, though they may know their Louvre and their Alps, just had to see California's wonderland.

A PRICE ON YOUR HEAD!

If any men reading this are nursing a secret hope to make a speech, write a book, build a bridge, make an invention, which will live on after them and immortalize their name, they'd better hang onto their hats! A Paris auction the other day indicated that the fame which clothes a man's name may even go so far as to include his topper—even though nary a diamond nor gold band crowns it.

Up for sale at this auction went a hat once worn by Napoleon. "Sold!" cried the auctioneer a few moments later, "for one thousand dollars!" Altogether, there are eight hats of the Little Corporal known to be in existence, and one of them is valued at $2000.

Thus the value of a man's hat, it appears, is determined by the head that wears it. This, at least, seems much more desirable than if the reverse were true.

Profile By Raymond Loewy

RAYMOND LOEWY, Parisian creator of style in locomotives, steamships, airplanes, sketched distinction into the 1938 Studebakers. Note how radiator grille and headlamps harmonize. Note, too, absence of hood louvers.

STUDEBAKER'S VACUUM SHIFT is handy and positive. Leaves front compartment clear. New driving habits not necessary.

PLENTY OF ROOM FOR THREE—and plenty of room for a whole family's supply of luggage—in Studebaker's trunk compartments.

WHAT NEXT CAN BE THE MATTER WITH NEW DEAL

First Attack With Reference To "Brain Trust" Turns Out To Be Boomerang

Do you remember how bitterly the Roosevelt administration was attacked for bringing in a group of economic experts from colleges to advise on New Deal policies? Do you recall the innumerable cartoons presenting youthful persons in cap and gown as the real government of the United States, engaged in the desperate office of substituting Soviet doctrines for American institutions?

If it had not been for their conception of the "brain trust" that was presented as furnishing Socialistic dreams and Bolshevist processes which President Roosevelt innocently Okehed because he did not know what it was all about, the Republican national committee would have run out of ammunition during the 1936 campaign. The starry-eyed amateurs furnished the background for nearly all of the Liberty League proclamations and speeches. Latterly, as the Roosevelt policies worked out successfully and dividends reappeared on the stock exchange horizon, the tendency to attribute all New Deal legislation to the "brain trust" lessened and there was less assumption that everything the administration was doing or had done was the product of the minds of theorists and academic dreamers.

It must have come with a shock to the silurian G. O. P. spokesmen to read in a newspaper that had specialized in attributing the New Deal policies to impractical and radical academicians that their own party was going the college route.

A few days before this was written the New York Herald-Tribune announced that President Dodds of Princeton and President Conant of Harvard have been invited to accept the post of chairman of the Republican Committee of One Hundred that is to formulate the policies and platform of the next Republican national convention. Moreover, we are advised from the same source that ex-President Angell of Yale and President Sproul of the University of California are also on the tentative list and the only reason that Glenn Frank, former president of Wisconsin University, has not been invited is that some of his friends have advanced him as a possible Presidential candidate.

Of course, the theory of domination of the Roosevelt administration by the "brain trust" of its early days was simply one of those pleasant fictions begotten of campaign necessities. These men were brought in as statisticians and as students of political economy, whose life work it had been to learn all that had been learned in the progress of civilization regarding means and methods by which other peoples and other countries had, through the ages, handled the problems that had to do with government finances, production, mass relief and such things. They were of different minds, with different theories. The President listened to them all and made his own decisions and the administration formulated its own policies in the light of all the information that could be gathered from any source.

When it came to writing a platform, which is a declaration of policies, the job was handed over to such veterans at this business as Cordell Hull, Senator Wagner and others in their class.

Seeks Name Change By Legal Process

John (Monty) Montague, expert golf exponent of the film colony links, has petitioned the court to legally change his name.

Montague, christened Laverne Matthew Moore, said in a court petition that his adopted name has become of "great sentimental and business value" during the last seven years that he has been using it. Hearing on the plea was set for January 6.

He has just returned to Hollywood after being acquitted of a roadhouse robbery in New York.

MISSION DOLORES

What glamorous tales you could record
And glorious feats, born from discord!
What enlightenment could you but tell
If it were possible your iron bell
Could change from chime to voice.
What knowledge, to make us rejoice,
Your aged walls conceal with poise.

There you stand so silent, yet so real
An emblem of the past, what appeal!
Your renown cannot be waved aside.
You extend a blessing robed with pride
To all those at your shrine.
A treasure great—Superb! Divine!
May you defy the wear of time!

Patience Brings Belated Reward

Forty four years ago a Faulk County, South Dakota farmer pioneer marked his initials on a new 1893 half dollar. Recently he got it back in change for payment of his light bill. The old settler, J. M. McGrath, didn't seem at all surprised and said, "I've been waiting for that a good many years."

OBSERVATION OF VARIOUS THINGS IN OUR CAPITAL

Smithsonian Institution Considered One Of Most Interesting Features Of All Washington Entertainment

(By Hart Goodrich)

The other day your correspondent heard a Washingtonian remark that she had lived in Washington for 25 years and had never visited the Smithsonian Institution's Museums, Art Galleries or Zoo. It seems a pity, with such a wealth of interesting things to see, that more Washingtonians do not take advantage of the capital's treasures.

The Smithsonian Institution is a private foundation under government guardianship, but is charged with administering seven governmental bureaus. James Smithson, an Englishman, who had never been in the United States, died June 27, 1829, bequeathing his fortune of $550,000 to this country to found an establishment "for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men" and himself chose the title "The Smithsonian Institution." The bureaus, under jurisdiction of the Institution, having become national necessities, are now supported by Congressional appropriation of nearly one and one-half million dollars annually.

The Institution and its branches take part annually in 30 or more expeditions. From regions where changing conditions will soon destroy the opportunity, specimens are thus collected for careful study and preservation; new facts are learned about the American Indians, and astronomical observations are made in favorable localities, on mountain peaks in distant lands. In 1936 expeditions were sent to the Bering Straits, southeastern Alaska and Greenland.

Included in the interesting collections are Lindbergh's plane, "Spirit of St. Louis," which first flew across the Atlantic; Presidents wives dresses; glass bee-hive; Lord's Prayer in the eye of needle, and Benjamin Franklin's printing press. The well-known exhibit of the Roosevelt African expedition, wherein the Colonel, immediately at the close of his presidential term, co-operated with the Smithsonian Institution in one of the most picturesque expeditions ever planned, forms another exhibit. There are giraffes, towering to full height of the hall, and groups of rhinos, antelopes, and others, the East Africa's teeming herds dominated by the kingly lions.

Children, however, enjoy best the live animals out at the National Zoological Park. This collection is considered the finest in the United States. The animals are so well cared for that the life-span of many varieties exceeds that in their wild condition, where enemies abound. Among the most popular specimens are the birds, including the Mynah bird which says, "How about the appropriation?"; the bears, the monkeys, the great cats and the elephants. The present population of the Zoo is about 2500.

Lesson Sermon Of Christian Science

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Lesson-Sermon will be read Sunday, December 5, on the subject "God the Only Cause and Creator."

The Golden Text will be: "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handywork. There is no speech nor language, where their voice is not heard" (Psalms 19: 1, 3). Bible selections will include the following passage from I Corinthians 8: 5, 6, (to ;): "For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many,) But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; . . ."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which reads as follows: "The admission that there can be material substance requires another admission, — namely, that Spirit is not infinite and that matter is self-creative, self-existent, and eternal. From this it would follow that there are two eternal causes, warring forever with each other; and yet we say that Spirit is supreme and all-presence" (p. 278).

GENERAL CONFUSION

A long-suffering listener asked: "Alive with what?"

"Alive with gladiators."

"My dear chap, alligators is what you mean. Don't you know gladiators or flowers?" Tit-Bits.

NATIONAL PARK REPORTS SHOW TRAVEL BOOM

Accuracy of predictions that recreational travel by motorists in California this year would surpass even last year's record breaking volume and set still higher all-time marks is substantiated by official National Park figures, it has been announced.

Travel records of National Parks in the state are a reliable indication of the magnitude that general motor touring activity has attained in California this year. Facts from travel reports for Yosemite, Lassen and General Grant National Parks are cited as follows:

Yosemite broke all previous records with a total of 481,492 visitors during the 1937 travel year. This number represented an increase of more than 50,000, or a gain of 11 per cent, over the 1936 figures, which also set a new high. Entering Yosemite during the period covered by the 1937 figures were 148,785 automobiles averaging 3.11 persons to the car. Yosemite's winter sports season, from December 1 to March 31, attracted 51,233 visitors, a gain of 7 per cent over the previous winter.

General Grant National Park reported the greatest volume of visitors in its history, with 157,810 persons and 48,178 cars entering the park during the travel year from October 1, 1936 to September 30, 1937. This was an increase of 6.2 per cent over the 1936 travel year and 35.1 per cent over 1935.

Lassen Volcanic National Park joined the record breaking parade with a total of 86,757 visitors and 27,626 cars during the travel year ending September 30. This was a gain of 12.71 per cent in visitors and 15.26 per cent in automobiles over the preceding year's figures.

JOHN GILBERT'S WIDOW TO REMARRY

Virginia Bruce, widow of John Gilbert, erstwhile great lover of the silver screen, is pictured with J. Walter Ruben, as they declared their intention to wed in Los Angeles. Miss Bruce, an actress in her own right, has become known to movie fans as the "other woman," which role she plays quite often. This time she says she is not the "other woman," but "the woman." When she married Gilbert, in 1932, she retired from the screen and came back only a short time ago. With this marriage, however, Miss Bruce says she will not retire, because she is more interested than ever in her career. Ruben is a director of note in the motion picture industry.

Unusual Bird Shows Speed In Flight

A student of the Community Flying Club of London, Ontario, George Dowker, a 16 year old Goderich boy, made a solo flight at the London airport backed by only four hours and 20 minutes of instruction from his teacher, William Nixon.

This same instructor brought forth another prodigee in the person of Frank Vines, now 16, but who obtained his flying license when only 14 years of age.

What! No Pennies?

London is facing the prospect of a shortage of pennies due to increasing employment and trade, according to a recent announcement from the royal mint.

During the last few weeks there has been a big increase in the demand for pennies from banks, and there will be some difficulty in meeting the full requirements.

It is expected that the demand will grow steadily until Christmas. During a boom year the mint turns out $2,500,000 worth of pennies.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NEWS OF INTEREST

The rooms in the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School have taken on a very festive colorful appearance. Radiating the holiday spirit, every room in the building is carrying out a different holiday motif. Toy soldiers, candles, the three wise men, Xmas trees and holly wreaths are some of the motifs which Mrs. Corral, art instructor, is helping the children to express in their own school rooms.

Some rooms have colorful Xmas pictures mounted on red and green paper to suplpement a portion of the room motif.

Students throughout the school are taking a keen interest in making their rooms and their school express the Yuletide.

Something New To Sweeten Education

The practical course in beekeeping and poultry raising carried on for the past two years at Simcoe High School, Toronto, Canada, has proved one of the most popular in that institution, according to those in charge of the work.

Four colonies of bees are kept by the pupils, who have recently finished extracting 300 pounds of honey, leaving another 300 pounds for the subsistence of the 800,000 bees. Last year the students cleared $35 on their honey, while on the bees and poultry in 1936 they made a profit of $200.

Of their 70 Plymouth Rocks, 30 are pullets, it was explained, and they average 25 eggs a day. Then each student in the senior class has a capon to fatten, dress and sell.

TROOP NO. 141

Meets Thursdays 7 to 9 p. m. at Nazarene Church, Vista and Santa Barbara

Our regular meeting, scheduled for Thursday of last week, was called off on account of too much Thanksgiving dinner.

Acting Senor Patrol Leader Glenn Goode left, early last Friday morning, to attend the Patrol Leaders Conference at Camp Royennea. He returned late Sunday afternoon and intimates that he has a good report to make to the troop at our next meeting.

The Indian Patrol met at the home of Scout Lawrence Christian, its leader, on Monday evening of this week. Considerable business was taken care of at the meeting, among which was the election of an assistant patrol leader. Scout Allen Rigler was the lucky fellow. Scout Richard King was elected to the office of patrol scribe and Scout Buddy Przbarowski is being groomed for the post of troop drummer.

The Waterdog Patrol now meets each Monday evening. Their last get-together was at the home of Scout Donald Laston. The problem of patrol projects was discussed and it was decided to begin with small undertakings until the patrol becomes more experienced. An original patrol was developed and adopted as official.

Patrol record books have been supplied to both patrols and these groups are getting into the spirit of Scouting in a big way.

Bob says that he is going right on to the rank of Lion Cub, now that he knows how much real fun there is in doing cub things. The Number Oners are building a secret den house in a tree top.

On next Saturday our pack is planning to film a short movie play entitled "Pups," if the weather is favorable.

Work Of Aggressive Development Now On

Plans for aggressive development of oil properties owned by California Lands, Inc., are being enlarged, following reports on the company's Jones Gallison No. 1 well at Santa Maria, E. D. Woodruff, president of the Transamerica subsidiary, announced this week.

Indicating an initial production in excess of 3000 barrels per day at a depth of 4897 feet, formation tests on the Jones Gallison materially extend the southerly limits of the Santa Maria field where the firm has two other 40-acre holdings.

In addition to the Santa Maria development, the organization is preparing to extend activities to other locations of its extensive land holdings as part of its long range petroleum production program.

Whistle Means "Come Hither"

He writes, "Imagine my dismay to find the perfectly obedient young man calmly turning a deaf ear to such demands as "Come in for lunch now, dear," or "it is time for your nap."

In despair I searched my books and found advice similar to this: "Never tell a child why you wish him to come to you. When he has obeyed the simple demand to 'come here, please' you are in a position to have his full attention and near enough to see that he obeys your request. If you will do this consistently for both pleasant surprises as well as duties, his curiosity will bring him happily whenever you call."

It worked perfectly, for a few times he asked, "what for" but I simply repeated my request "come here, please" until he came. Soon I substituted an unusual whistle and for years that whistle has been the signal to drop whatever he is doing and come to me. I have never ceased being grateful for that timely advice.

Whist Party

Cypress Circle No. 14, United Ancient Order of Druids, extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend the annual monster whist party, which will be held Friday evening of this week (tonight) at Colombo Auditorium on San Pedro road.

Chairman of the event will be Mrs. Dora Morton, who has announced that there would be worth while playing prizes as well as a generous door award.

"SAN FRANCISCO"

We admire your splendor,
Your atmosphere of romance—
We offer homage to your grandeur,
And your power to enhance.

We revere you, "City of Life"
(Your variety is beyond our scope)
We glory in your past, and
Your future is our hope.

We bow our heads in gratitude
Before your throne of fame
Then, in a sacred monotone,
With pleasure, breathe your name.

A pageant quite supreme—
A panorama of zest—
The reality of a dream—
Glorious Metropolis!

—Jeanne Ireton.

What Is Significance Of Jewel Copies

The crowns and jewels of vanished empires and toppled thrones were unloaded at Montreal recently from a freight ship just out of London.

From the Royal Galleries of Britain's capital came reproductions of the state jewels of half a dozen European monarchies and principalities that were lost to their rulers after the war. Valued at a high price, the 569-piece exhibit goes to Toronto for the Canadian National Exhibition.

The Crown jewels of England reproduced exactly are the only such royal possessions that retain their original significance today. The others are ancient history—the crown of Bohemia, the orb of Russia, the eagle crown of Napoleon, the Prussian state crown, and the crowns of the archdukes of the Austro-Hungarian empire.

The exhibit is one of the most unusual ever shipped to Canada. Copies of the jewelry of the Holy Roman Empire, gilt inkstands, gilt candlesticks, scales and weights, writing quills, tankards, dirks, broadswords, sets of armor and pieces of ancient court clothing are included in this unique cargo.

PIPED

The colored preacher had been discoursing about salvation and concluded by saying that it was free as water. Then came the collection. "But, parson," objected one of the congregation, "I thought you said salvation was free like water."

"So it is, brother," said the preacher, "and so is water. We only charge for piping them to you."—Ashington Cilliaries Magazine.

California and one of the most promising stallions ever imported to the United States. He is by Teddy, which has been France's best stallion for the last ten years, heading the list twice in succession. Teddy's progeny have won fifteen million francs, without counting any of the 1937 winnings. Sons and daughters of Teddy have won 475 races in France alone.

Sir Gallahad III, leading American sire for three years, is by Teddy. Bull Dog, another top line stallion standing in the United States, is likewise by Teddy, so it naturally follows that that sire's blood is the most sought after on the turf.

"Friendly Adviser" Tells Of Prevention

Just as this young mother, home from a tuberculosis sanatorium, is having explained to her by a public health nurse how she can stay well and prevent tuberculosis infection from attacking her small children, Miss Pauline Merino, P. Booklets containing educational information on prevention and cure of tuberculosis are issued by the National Tuberculosis Association and distributed by the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Such service as shown in this picture is made possible through the annual sale of Christmas Seals now under way here.

Phone Etiquette Use In Business

Don't say "Hello" when answering a telephone ring; courtesy has its place there as much as in face-to-face personal relations, according to a booklet entitled "You and Your Telephone," issued by the New York Telephone Company.

"When you answer, avoid such old-fashioned, indefinite, and time wasting words as 'hello' and 'yes'," this new treatise on telephone usage says.

Instead of the hackneyed, time worn "hello" the booklet suggests that in answering the telephone one should give the name of the organization they represent or, in the event of an individual, their own name, and urges that everyone should "phone as you would be phoned to."

It urges a "voice with a smile," since the voice over the telephone gives a mental picture of the speaker —"smiling or grimacing, courteous or grouchy, trustworthy or crafty." In other words, it is the voice that bespeaks the character. Moreover, the booklet urges telephone users to speak clearly and tactfully.

Beloved Pioneer Called To Reward

A beloved pioneer of Daly City, for nearly 30 years, Mrs. Lilly Dee passed away at her home, 79 Vandome street, very early Thursday morning. Her sudden decease was a shock to her neighbors and friends, who were accustomed to seeing her about and had loved her greatly.

For a long time Mrs. Dee conducted a business at her home, supplying draperies for some of San Francisco's large department stores. Her business had furnished employment to some of our home folk and they, too, will miss this kind lady, who did what she could to help.

James D. Dee, the husband, is the only near relative surviving to mourn her loss.

Funeral services will be conducted from the W. C. Laswell mortuary at 2 o'clock this Friday afternoon, with interment in Olivet Memorial Park.
